

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation. It is clear that the current leader of this agency is not interested in the American people receiving unbiased or even accurate information from the media. The corporate bottom line is more important to this administration than the welfare of the citizens and this must stop. What's the purpose of the FCC if it refuses to do anything to keep what is broadcast fair and honest? Never in my life have I been as frightened at the direction of this nation and its inexorable decline into fascism. From the embedding of journalists to "protect" us from the truth of our brutality to this current distortion of the truth about Senator Kerry, the situation is appalling.
